

Introducing Amazon Herb Company's

Amazon Alpaca Formula

The Amazon Alpaca Formula addresses Alpaca health from the perspective that true health and disease begin and end with digestion. It is designed to support and restore proper digestive function, expel and control parasites, lower pain and inflammation and promote increased cardiovascular and immune system strength. What's in our Amazon Alpaca Formula?

Una de Gato (Cat's Claw) helps stimulate and support the immune system, reduce pain and promote cellular detoxification.

Quebra Pedra (chanca piedra) assist the body in dissolving kidney stone and enteroliths. Anti-viral and anti-bacterial, it also aids digestion and helps cleanse the liver and kidneys.

Jatoba is added to assist the alpaca in lowering fungal, viral and bacterial levels in the body. It helps with bronchial congestion and assists the body to expel parasites.

Sangre de Drago is a potent anti-oxidant sap that promotes circulatory and digestive tract health and helps break down scar tissue. It also offers the added benefits of lowering pain and inflammation.

Boldo is extremely important for digestive health. It stimulates digestion, protects and detoxifies the liver and reduces dietary gas.

Chuchuhuasi has been used for centuries for relaxing the long muscles of the body. It also supports healthy adrenal gland function, relieves pain and enhances the immune system.

Camu-Camu is a powerful source of Vitamin C that fights the effects of free radicals, promotes improved cardiovascular health and acts as a natural antihistamine.

Stevia has long been used to balance blood sugar levels. Stevia also dilates blood vessels and supports the immune system by fighting bacteria, yeast and viral levels in the body.

Licorice has soothing, anti-inflammatory, and antiviral properties. Licorice is also used for ulcers, irritable bowel and bowel inflammation, bronchitis, coughs and adrenal weakness caused by stress or overwork.
